DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, the limitation is “if this temperature increase is more than $T_{in} + 20^{\circ}\text{C}$, is brought to a temperature in the range $T_{in} \pm 20^{\circ}\text{C}$ before it enters a subsequent reaction zone, wherein the feed stream is divided and the feed substreams obtained in this way are fed to the 2 reactors, or if more than 2 reactors are used to at least 2 of the reactors, with addition of fresh feed in such a way that the temperature in one of the reactors is at most 20°C higher than that in each of the other reactors used-- is indefinite since the word --if-- makes the limitations not positively or negatively recited. In other words, it is unclear what the presently claimed process would be in the case “if” the temperature increase is NOT more than $T_{in} + 20^{\circ}\text{C}$.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1764

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schulz et al (6,846,965).

Schulz et al discloses a process of oligomerization of an olefin having 2-8 carbons in a n ($n \geq 2$) successive adiabatic reaction zones containing a nickel-containing, heterogeneous catalyst (the abstract).

The temperature and pressure can be found on column 6, lines 42-48.

Art Unit: 1764

As discussed in the above 112 rejection, in the case, the temperature increase is NOT more than $T_{in} + 20^{\circ}\text{C}$, the claimed process is interpreted as having no step of bringing up or down the temperature, and having no step of dividing the feed stream and adding the fresh feed as called for in the claim. Therefore, the claimed process is not different from the Schulz process.

The limitation of claim 3 can be found on column 3, lines 29-34.
